

WALL STREET STOCKS

Course of the Market Yesterday Irregular and Perplexing.

THREW UP THEIR HOLDINGS

ACTION OF PROFESSIONALS AT THE CLOSE.

On the Situation Had Some Influence On the Market—Weakness of Sugar—Vanderbilts, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific Not Lacking in Strength.

New York, Jan. 14.—The course of today's stock market was decidedly irregular and somewhat perplexing. The general impression was that the market was in a state of transition, and that the professional traders were throwing up their holdings. The market was characterized by a general weakness, and the prices of most of the leading stocks were lower than yesterday.

UNRAVING OVER CUBA.

There was a feeling of more or less uneasiness also over the news from Havana. It was expected that the Spanish government would be forced to make some concessions to the rebels, and this was feared by the market.

CONTINUED STRENGTH.

The Vanderbilts, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific stocks were not lacking in continued strength, and the prices of these stocks were higher than yesterday.

BONDS.

The bond market was active in the day, but became less active towards the close. The prices of most of the leading bonds were higher than yesterday.

MONEY MARKET.

Money on call at 100 per cent; 100 per cent at 100 per cent; 100 per cent at 100 per cent.

SALES OF STOCKS.

Total sales of stocks today, $7,000,000. The sales of most of the leading stocks were higher than yesterday.

Collapse of Engineering Strike Influenced Dealings.

New York, Jan. 14.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram: After a quiet and dull opening, the stock market was generally good today, a dip being given by the collapse of the engineering strike and the declaration of a good dividend by the London & Lancashire Railway Company. A feature continues to be the Argentine, which are booming. The market was generally good, and the prices of most of the leading stocks were higher than yesterday.

BOSTON WHEAT MARKET.

Tone of Trade Excellent and Prices Slightly Higher. Boston, Jan. 14.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow of the wheat market: The market is much quieter. The large mills have purchased all they desire for the present, and the small mills are not so active. The prices of most of the leading wheat are higher than yesterday.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—In wheat, the Liverpool market showed an opening bid decline but before business commenced here it showed bid advance over yesterday's price. That started prices here at an advance of 1/4 to 1/2, and later cablegrams reported continued firmness at Liverpool, the price rose to 1/2, and the market was active during the first hour and a half. News from Argentina was not so bullish as yesterday, and the feeling of the market was of course of less confidence. The market had a good deal of encouragement from the liberal export and ruling prices until the receipt of the closing cables, after which time an easier feeling prevailed. Liverpool maintainings is early strength, but Paris noted decline in wheat equal to 1/4 cent per bushel for January, and Antwerp reported 2 cents per bushel decline in both red winter and Walla Walla. Letter brokers sold without much profit, price was reached, but the market was very weak. May finally foundered, and was reported at that price at the close. It was reported after the close that was
